LEGION OF HONOR TO HOST JUMBO HEART-SIZED KNITTING DEMONSTRATIONS

Hearts in San Francisco Fiberglass Heart Continues to Be Source of Living Public Art

Who: Artist, Adele Louise Shaw

What: Shaw will demonstrate jumbo garment knitting using alternative materials such as polypropylene rope in connection with Artwear: Fashion and Anti-fashion, an exhibit currently at the Legion of Honor. Shaw will create a "witch's hat" for Halloween that fits a 5' high fiberglass heart—one of the heart sculptures that appeared in San Francisco in 2004. The heart is covered with the pages of 7 Shakespeare plays has an existing wardrobe including a head cozy, a grass skirt, and a thinking cap. All pieces will be on display. The heart's permanent home is the grounds of The Villas Parkmerced, an apartment community on Nineteenth Ave. The heart's current and future wardrobe is intended to reflect seasonal changes and continue in the spirit of public art begun by the Hearts in San Francisco Project.

When: Tuesdays, September 27, Oct. 4, 11 from 12-4:00 p.m.

Where: Legion of Honor courtyard in Lincoln Park. 34th Avenue & Clement Street in San Francisco 94121

Admission: Free on Tuesdays between 9:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.
